

The Moot Point Project 2026 Giving Letter

We at The Moot Point Project are thrilled to announce a big step in our journey...

The Moot Point Project has been accepted into Fractured Atlas' Fiscal Sponsorship Program and all donations to TMPP are now tax-deductible!

As a growing project, every milestone is something to celebrate with our community and we appreciate you, our supporters, in our mission to challenge traditional theatre. Now, thanks to Fractured Atlas, we can give back to you come tax season.

Your donations of any amount make the difference in bringing truly unique theatre to Denver.

Each donation allows us to...

★ Pay emerging artists.

Individual artists are vital to each Moot Point Project and we strongly believe in compensating artists for their time and energy. As we grow, we prioritize increasing our artist stipends and your donation helps us make that difference.

★ Provide accessible third spaces.

Providing accessible third spaces like Play Dates and Pay What You Can Performances are essential for community building and individual well being. A third space is a free to attend environment, a space that is not home and not work but rather a place to grow and thrive. Your donation maintains these spaces financially accessible to a range of Denver locals who otherwise could not attend such events.

★ Source sustainable production materials.

We prioritize sustainability at the forefront of our productions. Your donations allow us to source second hand materials; giving thrifted clothing, donated furniture, and unwanted goods a new life on the stage and a new home afterwards.

★ Keep our tickets under $20.

We believe theatre is a transformative experience that should be available to all. At TMPP, access to theatre should not be a burden and your donation allows us to maintain high quality performances at an affordable price while simultaneously paying emerging artists, providing accessible third spaces, and sourcing sustainable production materials.

We are continuing our monthly Play Dates, including an exciting summer series we have planned. This and more will not be possible without your help!
